The Director of Human Resources will also ensure that statistical reports, designed to establish and maintain a flow of accurate information about recruiting and employment in general, and about minority persons, women, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities, in particular, will be prepared on a regular basis. Employees who need assistance in clarification or resolution of EEO matters or who are interested in reviewing the Affirmative Action Plan for Individuals with Disabilities and Protected Veterans should contact the Director of Human Resources. If the circumstances make reporting an issue to either of these individuals difficult, feel free to contact any member of management. Retaliation against any employee for making an EEO claim or participating in the investigation of a complaint is strictly prohibited and will not be tolerated.

Quadel Consulting will make a good faith effort to reasonably accommodate the physical and mental limitations of any employee or applicant for employment or for religious purposes unless such accommodation would impose undue hardship on the conduct of our business. We encourage applicants and employees to assist us in identifying accommodations that he or she may need to perform the job.

On a strictly voluntary basis, Quadel Consulting invites all individuals with a disability and protected veterans who are either employees or applicants for employment, and who wish to participate under our Affirmative Action Program to identify themselves to their manager or the Human Resources department. Any individual who identifies himself/herself will not be subjected to any form of harassment or retaliation based on his/her status or self-identification. Further, this self-identification will be kept confidential. For purposes of this policy protected veterans include disabled veterans, recently separated veterans, active duty wartime or campaign badge veterans, and armed forces service medal veterans.

The President fully supports the Affirmative Action Program and directs the responsibility of all those with employment responsibility to seek to achieve the stated aims of this program. Moreover, it is the responsibility of each and every member of the staff of Quadel Consulting to assist in achieving the aims of this policy and to make equal opportunity an actual, functioning condition of work life at Quadel Consulting.
